

Joseph Bement is passionate about spreading education and understanding for the community, as well as his focus on connecting the community to help create employment, education, or recreational opportunities for those with special needs of all ages.

Prior to joining the board, Mr. Bement had founded, and eventually sold an environmental engineering company. In addition to this, Mr. Bement is an executive in an oil and gas company in the Pittsburgh area. Mr. Bement has also previously served honorably in the United States Marine Corps. During his time with the marines, Joseph learned how to inspire marines with diverse backgrounds. He is a parent of a son with Down syndrome and resides with his family in the South Hills.
